

INTERNET AND ECOMMERCE LAW

As electronic commerce continues to grow, Christian & Barton attorneys have developed significant experience in understanding both the business opportunities presented and the risks posed.

We regularly assist clients with the following matters relating to doing business on the Internet:

- Web site terms and conditions
- Domain name registration and disputes
- Web site development/hosting agreements
- Content provider agreements
- Trademark and copyright infringement claims
- Privacy statements and regulations (including Children's Online Privacy Protection Act)
- Internet service provider agreements
- "Partnering," "strategic alliance" and other affiliation arrangements
- Confidentiality agreements
- Trademark and copyright registrations
- Software and technology licensing
- Web site legal evaluations
- Taxation issues

RELATED ATTORNEYS

- Peter E. Broadbent Jr.
- Warren David Harless
- Robert D. Michaux